FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Constant up gradation of skills is a necessary aspect in comprehensive learning of subjects. Imparting of skills through various activities held in the college is a good way to motivate the students towards higher learning. This magazine is a record of the activities held throughout the year. It also strives to encourage the students to test their creative limits. The first section of the magazine always highlights the academic skills imparted to the students. The second part is devoted to encourage Faculty and student's creative thinking capabilities wherein there photographic insight of the surroundings is also incorporated. We hope that this compendium will enable all of us to figure out much better planning to enhance the skill set of the students.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

An institution or Organization can progress with perfect planning in a healthy and systematic way. It can happen when the details of execution are planned well in advance. In the process, taking note of past experience will help. By this, mistakes can be rectified. If crowned with success, planning for further growth can be done.

“DISHA” was brought into existence for this purpose. It proved to be of utmost utility for the Society and its Institutions in particular to record systematic, sustainable and healthy growth. The result is that the fruits of development are being felt not only by the students of the Institutions but also those belonging to other Institutions. Slowly, the campus is turning out to be a model for others to emulate. Continuous efforts in this direction would certainly become useful as a small contribution towards nation building.

Let us hope that everyone associated with this Institution would work with same amount of enthusiasm and dedication.

Justice Sri L. Narasimha Reddy,
President, Keshav Memorial Educational Society
Chancellor, UOH,
Chairman Central Administrative Tribunal, New Delhi

SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

In today's technology driven world, entertainment and motivation which promote new ideas through Disha is laudable. I congratulate the team which is making this possible.

DR. A.V. SUBRAMANYAM

Using words creatively enhances thought and happiness. It helps in channelizing our lives to the right path. Writers are therefore considered as path breakers in the society. Disha, also means a Path. If Disha (path) is correct our Destiny also changes for good. A person travelling in the right path always reaches higher position in life. Training your heart to think in a new way is easily possible in younger days. Creative writing helps you to think in innovative ways.

I hope that Disha which is enabling the young minds to enhance their thoughts and creativity will celebrate many more spring times.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

It's heartening to know that the government of India has been taking several initiatives to enhance the quality of education, across the country, as it is predominantly confronted with the fact that only 8% of the undergraduates are employable worthy. Furthermore, it's observed that even after the post graduation studies the outcome is not up to the expectations. Compounding it, the downward trend in the field of research is another visible factor for the government to step in and overhaul the present scenario through interface between the stakeholders and the administration to lay a roadmap for achieving better results. The Vishwaguru, India, has decided firmly that it should lead the world with its vision by improving its education policy that which can ensure transformational changes globally and in the education sector of India as well successfully. We hope very soon, the dreams of our Nation will come true.

This institution, to be a part of the initiative and to augur well with the demands of the job industry, has come out with a special emphasis on addressing the requirement of employability skills of the students and make efforts towards securing inroads into attainment of desired outcomes.

In the process the institution noticed that the much missing higher cognitive process could be tapped through bringing out a college magazine like DISHA. The magazine committee encourages the students to exhibit their writing skills by providing a channel for publishing their articles, poems, reports etc in DISHA. This Annual college magazine DISHA, will help all the students showcase their talents and also recollect their enlightening engagement with the academic challenges on the campus.

There is a sincere hope that the Magazine will serve as a platform to provide an opportunity for ensuring the required trajectory to achieve contemplated goals. The magazine serves as a mechanism for enrichment of academic performance of the faculty and students. In the end the society will have an occasion to get a glimpse of the institutional achievements.

I congratulate the magazine committee for bringing out a beautiful college magazine DISHA.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF KESHAV MEMORIAL EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY

Keshav Memorial Educational Society was established in 1940 by Pandit Vinayak Rao Vidyalankar in memory of his father Sri Justice Keshav Rao Koratkar, who was a Judge of the then Hyderabad High Court, as part of the freedom movement. Justice Koratkar firmly believed that education of our youth would be the right means for their freedom. So he had opened a few schools in his native place which is now in Maharashtra. He was also one of the founder members of Vivek Vardhini Educational Society. To fulfill the aspirations of his father, Pandit Vinayak Rao Vidyalankar started a voluntary organization by the name of Keshav Memorial Educational Society in 1940. He established a middle school later, the same school has been developed into High School. In 1950 a Girls High School has also been established. Both the schools have been admitted into the grant-in-aid scheme of the state government. In 1974 a Junior College also been started. It is also admitted into grant-in-aid. In addition to these we have unaided English Medium High school, unaided degree and PG College. In the year 2007 we have started an engineering college with the name and Style of Keshav Memorial Institute of Technology. It is an institute striving for the development of various skills in youth.. In the year 2016-17 we started an unaided Law College. In the subsequent years we started Niel Gogte Institute of Technology, Keshav Smarak Junior College and Keshav Memorial Junior College (Unaided), Keshav Memorial School (Unaided). All these institutions are named after Keshav Rao Koratkar. We are successfully training and placing many number of students in various reputed MNCs..

We have about 100 members to constitute the General Body of the Society. They elect the managing committee for a term of three years. The management committee consists of: President, Vice-President, Secretary, Joint – Secretary, Treasurer and other eight members. The managing committee is the main administrator and the Secretary is the Executive officer. He is responsible for implementing the decisions of the Managing Committee. The institutions run by this Society strived to inculcate the spirit of nationalism among the student and the education imparted is based upon Bharathiya Values of Education and Culture. We give freeships to poor students, conduct medical camps, and give uniforms to poor students. We also try to provide our students placements, with the help of various business houses and MNC'S.

Noteworthy programs like blood donation camp, NSS camp, NCC training, Personality Development Program and short term add on technical courses like Tally, SAAP, National Seminars, State level Workshops are being conducted. We have also conducted a few programs like Varalakshmi Vratam, Batukkamma (Traditional festivals), as part of social responsibility.

DISCIPLINE

People who are successful in life exert discipline every day. Although discipline is a concept that everyone knows about, very few truly understand what it means and its importance. A person who is disciplined follows the rules and behaves appropriately wherever they go. Can you imagine a world without any discipline? It's going to be a total chaos. Without discipline, we will not have great and inspiring leaders, award-winning actors and actresses, successful businessmen, and we won't be able to raise well-mannered kids to make a difference today and in the future. When we constantly practice restraint, we prevent arguments from happening. If we do not give into something we want right away, we strengthen ourselves as well. Discipline will help us make the right decisions in life regardless of the many temptations that we will encounter during the process.

Discipline is the refining fire by which talent becomes ability.

– Roy L. Smith

To enjoy good health, to bring true happiness to one's family, to bring peace to all, one must first discipline and control one's own mind. If a man can control his mind he can find the way to Enlightenment, and all wisdom and virtue will naturally come to him.

CORONA

The word we've never heard before
Now stands as a mighty tor.
It has no sword nor does violence
But is been killing millions.
It has changed the meaning of unity
And left us in locked community.
Panic and fright all over
A throbbing sight seen ever.
It is not even the size of a sand grain
But has taught us that everything we have is vain.
No money No power can save us
But only our courage is what strengthens us.
It is not a curse, nor a misfortune,
Just it means to bring us back to tune.
Always busy with our daily chore
We had forgotten they are many more things to explore.
Friends and Family who were never significant
Now turn out to be the most relevant.
Though it has shaken us to the core
Let's not forget even a mighty ocean has a shore.

INDIAN ARMY - OUR PRIDE

M.SRIKANTH
B.Sc (MPCs) I Year
1110 - 19 - 468 - 023

Indian Army needs no introduction. We have respect, love, pride, and admiration for our soldiers and for the Indian army as a whole. From the burning deserts of Rajasthan to the icy heights of Siachen, from battling Warfield to Nation Building, from surviving struggle to supreme sacrifice with an unbeatable will, our soldiers compromise their lives for honour and above all for INDIA.

The primary mission of the Indian Army is to ensure National Security and National Unity. Indian Army is divided into six operating commands and one training command. Each command has multiple Corps, Divisions, Brigades, Battalion/ Regiment, Rifle Company, Platoon and sections. All these commands have diverse histories and have participated in a number of battles and campaigns across the world, winning a large number of battles and theatre honour before and after independence. The President of India is a supreme Commander of the Indian Army which is commanded by the Chief of Army Staff (COAS), who is a four star General. Two officers have been conferred with the rank of Field Marshal, a five star rank which is a ceremonial position of great honour.

Life of a soldier works on the theme of "Nation First". He sacrifices his life for the protection of nation's pride. He is a true patriot and is always ready to lay down his life in the service of motherland. A soldier is an unsung hero who remains in the shadows and plays out a part that is not seen, but only felt. Our nation's safety is totally dependent on our soldiers. Their life is not a bed of roses but is a life full of overcoming challenging situations. For them, the country's security is their first priority. Indian Army not only fights in the war but also take care of the rescue operations when natural calamities occur like cyclones, earth-quake, flood etc. A Writer, Teacher, Engineer and a Doctor perform their respective duties according to their abilities but the role played by soldiers is over and above all. They live for others and consider the country as one big family of theirs. The courage, spirit of comradeship and brotherhood, irrespective of religion, caste and creed, inculcate this strength to even face bullets, embracing death to become immortal for all the time in all soldiers of Indian Army. Every Indian should always develop a good and heroic mentality towards our national heroes and respect their sacrificing work.

The Army has launched a multi - pronged campaign to reach out to people in remote and rural areas of Jammu and Kashmir and educate and assist them in the fight against corona virus. As part of the campaign titled "Jointly we will put an end to Corona", distribution of pamphlets, masks, sanitizers and also ration is being done besides installation of hand wash facilities.

The Army has distributed pamphlets in bilingual language giving out vital information to counter COVID-19 among Gujjar and Bakarwal communities residing in Rakhmuthi and Devipur villages of district Jammu.

In Rajouri district, the Army has launched sensitization operation in remote villages to educate people on the outbreak of COVID-19 and necessary stringent measures to contain its spread amongst the local populace.

We all are experiencing the fruits of sacrifice of our Indian Army every day to keep our country together. We salute our Indian Army and pay homage to the supreme sacrifice of our Army brothers every day.

Thunderstorms doesn't lasts forever so does your sadness and that's the reason to live and live happily.

MAKE THE CURRENT PERIOD BENEFICIAL

M.V.L.Sai Sudha
B.Com (Honors) II year

As we already know the current period which we are going through is something that we've to be concerned. The present lockdown period is certainly a tough thing for us and definitely indefatigable. Technically, it's expressions of disappointment about life, all you need is just to focus on your own happiness and sense of contentment we can overcome the situation only if we start thinking innovative and being inspirational. Why don't you manifest of what you actually want to learn or go through? There are numerous things that we all can get to know just by social distancing. Instead of complaining regarding the mess that the world seems to be in and giving up on the human race, we could go through non-digital activities which help us develop physical and mentally health as well.

Activities that you can take up are "meditation" which insists in deeply cleansing the soul, some kind of physical activities like work outs; these help in de-stressing the body keeping it fit and healthy.

Non-digital activities also include mental activities too, book reading which de clutter our minds from the current situation. Consider this period as something precious as it is helping us to enrich all our capabilities and let us know what we actually are.

Make it as simple as possible, by creating list of all your interests, capacities and what you are fascinated about. Recollecting this thing may motivate you to propel yourselves into doing something useful; where you can gain some knowledge from that particular stuff. Ultimately, it's all about changing your perception on the current period, instead of falling into unconstructive activities, badger yourselves into the non-digital world. Initially it is obviously difficult to keep ourselves away from social media but later the consequences of this sacrifice definitely leads you to something positively.

It is exciting to let yourselves into something useful. Doesn't it sound great? When it's clearly known how you've got to design your part of life as something fascinating!!! And to be honest, this is the only period where in you've got chance to bring out all your interests and make wonders. "Utilize all the time you've got to know something new, instead of wasting it on social media". Now come on, let's be a source of peace and light in our own life.

A STORY I ENJOYED READING
JODY'S FAWN written by Marjorie Rawlings.

I am going to tell you about a story that I liked reading the most. The name of this story is Jody's fawn written by Marjorie Rawlings. This story is about a fawn and a little boy of my age. I liked this story because I like animals. In this story, a little boy brings a fawn home lovingly, whose mother was killed by his father. The boy was worried as he thought that the baby deer will die without the mother to look after him. He bought the fawn all by himself from the jungle. The boy kept the fawn as a pet. He gave the fawn his share of milk to drink. He loved the fawn very much. In this story I liked the description of the buzzard that was eating the carcass of the doe and I also liked to read the description of how the fawn was bought from the jungle by the boy. The author has given a vivid description of the jungle. The boy was brave indeed. otherwise he would not have been able to bring the fawn from the jungle all by himself. My classmates did a small role play on this story. One boy became the fawn and he acted so well that the class could not stop clapping for him. I liked to read this story very much; it shows that one should be compassionate and caring towards animals.

MY DREAM SOMEONE'S PRIVILEGE

Walking on the street in the evening
Crossing a road;
Suddenly I stopped myself
To see a girl wearing a jacket
Exactly the same one I saw on internet,
That looks so good.
I told myself 'It's too expensive' and moved on.
Smiling, I crossed the road,
Only to notice her staring at something,
I looked in her direction,
Found nothing but a car.
Little did I know it's the car
That stopped her midway.
I smiled and went into cafe.
Now, I saw a girl staring at me,
I tried to avoid but I could not,
I wondered what might be the reason.
I saw her again staring at my shoes,
Now realized , she didn't have one.
Sipping my coffee ; I realize this is a chain....
A chain of continuous dreams.....
For some having a car might be a dream,
some dream of beautiful clothes,
some just need some shoes.
It makes me mad ; thinking why do we have dreams.
But I do realise that's what makes us work harder.
The more I think, the more I understand.
The dream every person has is someone else's privilege.
It makes me sad and at the same time,
it makes me sadder that I live someone's dream,
but now I understand
I am more than privileged to have what I own.

Oh no!

One day, a girl decides to do something worthwhile and productive.

Girl to herself: It's 10:45 am now. I'll start at exactly 11 am. Let me just sit and relax till then Suddenly her phone rings and unknowingly the time passes. After the talk ends, Girl to herself: Oh no! It's quarter past eleven. It's ok. After all, the one whom I was talking to is my best friend.

When she was just about to start her work this time, the light turned off.

Girl to herself: Oh no! It's a power cut. It's ok. I'll wait for the power to be back and then start.

After a long time the power will be back. Then,

Girl to herself: Oh no! It's lunchtime now. It's ok. I'll start after having lunch.

After having lunch,

Girl to herself: Oh no! Everyone here is sleeping and I'm not able to concentrate. It's ok. I'll sleep for some time, wakeup, and then start freshly.

The time passes. Then comes her mother.

Girl's mother: Wake up and get ready. We are going to the party.

Girl to herself: Oh no! What should I do now? It's ok. I'll start my work from tomorrow. I won't be meeting my cousins regularly.

The next day all her friends plan to meet and spend time together.

Girl to herself: Oh no! What should I do now? It's ok. I'll start my work from tomorrow. It's been very long I met my friends.

.... Something like this happens every day and the girl keeps on postponing what she wants to do.

Do you think all these complaints and excuses are reasonable?

This is what happens with most of us, every time we decide to do something worthwhile. In our case it may be preparing for the upcoming examinations, preparing for a competitive exam, or enhancing a skill of our interest. We complain and we find excuses for not doing things.

Remember! There are 600 million young people in our country today. There is a competition in everything. If you keep on complaining and find excuses for everything, undoubtedly you will fall behind of those 600 million people. Stop saying it's ok and find your own way to get over complaining and finding excuses.

Set your goals high. Work hard with commitment and dedication to achieve them. Because the real happiness can only be attained after having gone through the struggle.

Stop complaining! Start working! Work hard! As hard as possible!

PROTESTS

It's an emergency,
I'm driving the ambulance on the fullest
and then I see what?
Protest!
There is no place to walk even and
I'm in shock
Will I even reach the hospital?
I just get down and request people to move shouting for help, and imagine what I got slapped by one of the protesters!
The protest is for the safety of women and Here I'm worried about the pregnant women in the ambulance - laughing, crying, and feeling sad at myself.
The one who is protesting about the women's security are becoming barrier for other women
With no time, I have to take U turn and rush to another hospital taking a long route, feeling even God is against me!
I finally reached the hospital,
the pregnant lady was taken to the ward
She finally gave up,
THE BABY DIED,
I wasn't connected to that lady in any way
But still I was crying :(.
Thinking about the mother who took all the pain for 9 months,
and what she got.....
Protests are necessary, but the way it is done isn't the way it should be done.

' The protest I wanted,
To stop every vehicle and let the ambulance go '
The protest I got, sorry I won't be able to say it..

Middle class
A poetry
(Published in an Anthology, Muslin Dreams)

Middle class

" Neither our name
Nor our fame,
We all are in the middle the Class frame.
We think before we do, and
we do before we think,
We aim for the prize but then situations make us sacrifice
We sigh, we try, to fly more high
But our wings are taken away by the windy sky
We lose, we gain, but we never Feel pain, but still our name and
Our fame are in the middle class
Frame.

Scribbling during Lockdown

Karthick Dayagala
B.Sc(M.S.Cs) II Year

Things that expressions fail to convey are delivered by speaking. For a fellow at loss of words to speak, conveys his thoughts by scribbling. – Me.

It was all good going around. We were so busy with our chores, that we were unconcerned about what's going on in the world beyond ours. Ours is a society where diverse kinds of families exist. Poor families were concerned about how to upkeep their next day's bread, whereas a person of means worried about how to spend the weekend. We, the people of middle class had our own cause of worry.

We have distant relatives, forgotten friends, unremembered foes and some known-unknown people in our lives. We were unworried about anyone. We indeed had a valid reason to be so as we were busy in our own being and hardly had any time for others. Honestly, individuals too, in the family were so preoccupied with themselves that they were blindly maintaining a distant relationship with their own family members. Kids being busy with gadgets, father busy with his job and mother sometimes left disregarded. It seemed we were already taking part in social distancing. On the other hand, people indulged in duties hardly had any hour for themselves, for their interests or for their loved ones. It seemed that people needed a pause from their lives.

All of a sudden, the world had a crisis to face, that has brought a huge impact on the world itself where the world's greatest country, the most populated country, the world's largest democracy – all were trying to control the impact of the calamity caused. The governments asked us to not fall into the crisis, by just being at home and not to come out so that we do not suffer. As a result of it, the chaotic cities turned eerily silent with the roads left deserted and the homes being occupied.

The instruction of lockdown and being at home has brought the busy members of the family together, nearer, and has made the people remember their forgotten distant relatives, friends, foes, as the concern we humans have for our fellow beings is exhibited when they call us from far off places and ask how are things with us in this time of crisis. It's quite delightful when the kids, the elders, parents, grandparents- all engage together to play games. Apart from this, youth is doing things like cooking, scribbling, learning some art or doing anything to kill time.

Besides us, the other elements - the lakes, the lands, the sky all needed a break from the vehicles, factories, and from the public indeed that afflicted the living world. Perhaps, Mother Nature has got her break and is rejoicing us with clear skies, pure air, and cool breezes. We now have suddenly observed the sounds of the creatures- beautiful birds around us that were left unnoticed amidst the never ending noises all these days.

It's indeed a pricking thing that, we do not communicate with our far-away friends or relatives, put in this sort of time with our family members or at-least heed our surroundings, the creatures around us, unless we are provoked by this kind of crisis. Anyhow, whilst the health professionals and the governments are trying to cope up with the crisis, it's a good sign that broken threads are being tied up between us and our forgotten kith and kin in the course of lockdown.

Amidst the time of crisis, I observed these happenings around me that I thought were a sign of goodness or integrity and while scribbling the thoughts in my mind, I mark the words of Michael Jackson from his lyrics that seemed to be true: "Heal the World. Make it a better place for you and for me and the entire Human race. There are people dying, if you care enough for the living, make a better place for you and for me."

TEENAGE LIFE

Isn't it fascinating! To be living the so called teenage consisting tremendous diversions. Though, the period we all do lead is a flux. When we're fussy about what we are diving into, there could be several things we come across no matter how bad or good it could be.

This is the only age where we could not find the mindset to be constant and also where being manipulative is helpful. It sounds great when it's known that we could experience the taste of life, clearly you can also be betraying yourself by being out of control. Let me tell you! We get addicted to many things, thoughts or what so ever... but ultimately it's all about how you could firmly deny something when you're clear about the wrong step you take.

It indicates the stages we get refrained sometimes or may also get annoyed instead but it's within us being indefatigable.

Probably in the current generation if we consider teenagers, we could possibly be knowing how pessimistic people have become, how negatively people are getting addicted to sex, drugs, and other things under the same category. Clearly their approach towards their thought isn't that good which is just getting worse; being repulsive. It is so annoying when we just come to know how people are holding back according to their level of thinking.

The way of perception depends on how we take things, also how one could implement their thoughts into actions, it is the basis for psychological study.

As a matter of fact we may want to grab attention or offend someone indirectly, but more or less it's like we are fooling ourselves; badgering yourself to do something that doesn't match your level.

The only thing I want to share is that, it's a usual thing to pretend of what others demand more for or show interest in, but this may lead to some other circumstances that we may not expect. Then we cannot overcome it.

Let it be more clear, just denoting that "society's perception of us matters more than personal perception". When you are living in a society with different kinds of people with different mindsets especially the teenagers, never make things annoying. Make sure you have proper reputation in and around, which matters the most.

Finally it could be concluded that, never regret a step you have chosen or what made you choose that step. Just be sure of what exactly you are going through.

This is particularly for the teenagers, just because this is the only time we choose what we should achieve in life and also must be clear about one thing, that it's ultimately us and only us confronting ourselves to accomplish of what we've propelled ourselves to become.

It is agreed that it's the only age where we do have lots of fun and make lots of memories, but everything has a limit, make sure it's not crossed.

Be what you are, and excel. Your decisions matter; let excellence come to you, instead you running for it.

WHY IS MY TEACHER STRICT..?

I always wonder why our teacher is tough on Us. I don't understand what's wrong with us. Not every teacher wants to be strict, but some teachers are strict because if they aren't strict class will go out of control. If they are friendly some students will take advantage of this and they will misbehave and there will be mismanagement in the whole class.

There was a Maths professor who did his PhD in Mathematics but he always worried about his son. He brought up his son with great care, love and affection. He never disobeyed his son's any wish. His son was poor at Maths. He wants him to be good at Maths so that he took some special care by teaching him daily. But there is no change in his son. One day he was dull and sat in school, one of his colleagues observed him and asked "what is the problem..?" He told about his son and his poor performance. His colleague gave him an advice to appoint a tutor. Without any delay he appointed a tutor. Professor daily observed his son who is doing quite well. Within a month there is a great change and he really felt very happy for his son.

From above incident we can say that, when his father taught his son he couldn't perform well this is because there is lack of coordination between them and there is no student and teacher relationship between them this lead to the student's poor performance.

A teacher is like our good mentor, a philosopher, a guide, a friend.

There are many things that contribute to this such as:

- being passionate about students Progress and success,
- giving help when you see a student struggling, patience,
- not calling on students when you know it makes them uncomfortable,
- Being thorough to a point that will benefit Us.

I want to end with a great quote about teacher "A good teacher is like a candle it consumes itself to light the way of others."

CONFINEMENT

Wings clipped, chaos around me,
Frustration abounds- incomplete agendas, unkept promises stare at me
My mind trying to resolve, go around and do something—
Oh! Impediments everywhere inside and out –
Challenge thrown at me---
Now what will you do???

The four corners of confinement staring at me ----laughing
Uneasy poise as my mind struggles with remote in hand channel surfing, idling
Suddenly mind goes back to the reflections on ancient past
What, Why , How and Now what questions arising in the mind
Think of the life they lead it said—Less Hassle, more Wisdom, more Peace...
Out of the stupor; clear mind --
Oh! the joy of freedom, realization
Now, the agenda is set
Soaring Spirit accomplishing the tasks at ease.
